Overview

The Eredivisie is the pinnacle of Dutch football, known for its technical skill, while nurturing the next generation of football stars, making it one of Europe's most exciting leagues.

We are proud to have represented Eredivisie's global rights for over 20 years, bringing The Netherlands' elite football competition to audiences around the globe.

The league has a strong track record of developing some of the best players in world football. Recent legends such as Zlatan Ibrahimovic, Clarence Seedorf and Luis Suarez all progressed through Eredivisie Clubs' youth systems, while current international stars such as Xavi Simons, Cody Gakpo and Frenkie de Jong also all made their breakthroughs in the League.

Stakes are high, with the League Champions and runner up qualifying for the UEFA Champions League and the third and fourth placed teams qualifying for the UEFA Europa and Conference Leagues, respectively. Teams finishing fifth to eighth compete in two legged play-offs to determine who claims a final spot in the UEFA Conference League – providing an additional six matches at the end of the season. Ranked 6th in the UEFA coefficient, the Eredivisie stands out as one of the top leagues in Europe and affords 6 Clubs the opportunity to qualify for European Club Competitions each season, across the UEFA Champions, Europa and Conference Leagues.
